ART!

What's your ultimate adventure? If you could go anywhere in the world, where would you go? Would you hike through the rain forest? Ride a horse over the Great Plains? Cruise on a camel through the desert? Go snorkeling in the Caribbean? Climb the tallest mountain? Lie out in the sunshine? Or would you explore your favorite city? Outside is a world of opportunity, and L-S helps take you there.

FUN?

Michelle Krezanoski ('99)

Last year when the DYAD staff was trying to come up with a theme for this yearbook, a staff member had a brilliant idea. "Let's call it New Heights!" she said. And it was indeed a perfect title for 1996-97. Why, you ask? Well, take a look around you. Lincoln-Sudbury has been quite busy making improvements in its own circle, while branching out to help the rest of the community as well. We have a brand new superintendent/principal, some fantastic new courses, and great clubs, all wanting to make a difference.

This past year, our nation held the Presidential elections in which a lot of old issues resurfaced. Questions about educational reform and protecting the environment were key. L-S has addressed many of these issues. By instituting more schedule changes and continuing to update technology, L-S has been able to maintain its reputation as one of the best schools in the land. We've also given back to the community through clubs such as the Martin Luther King Action Project (MLKAP), Save our Animals, Forests and Environment (SAFE), and the Young Women's Leadership Club (YWLC). They groups have visited shelters, helped build homes for the needy, and continued the fight to save our environment. Now that the year is over, we have a fresh outlook on what our accomplishments have been, and what challenges we still have to meet. Next year, the Lincoln-Sudbury community will still be reaching for "New Heights."

A New Boss

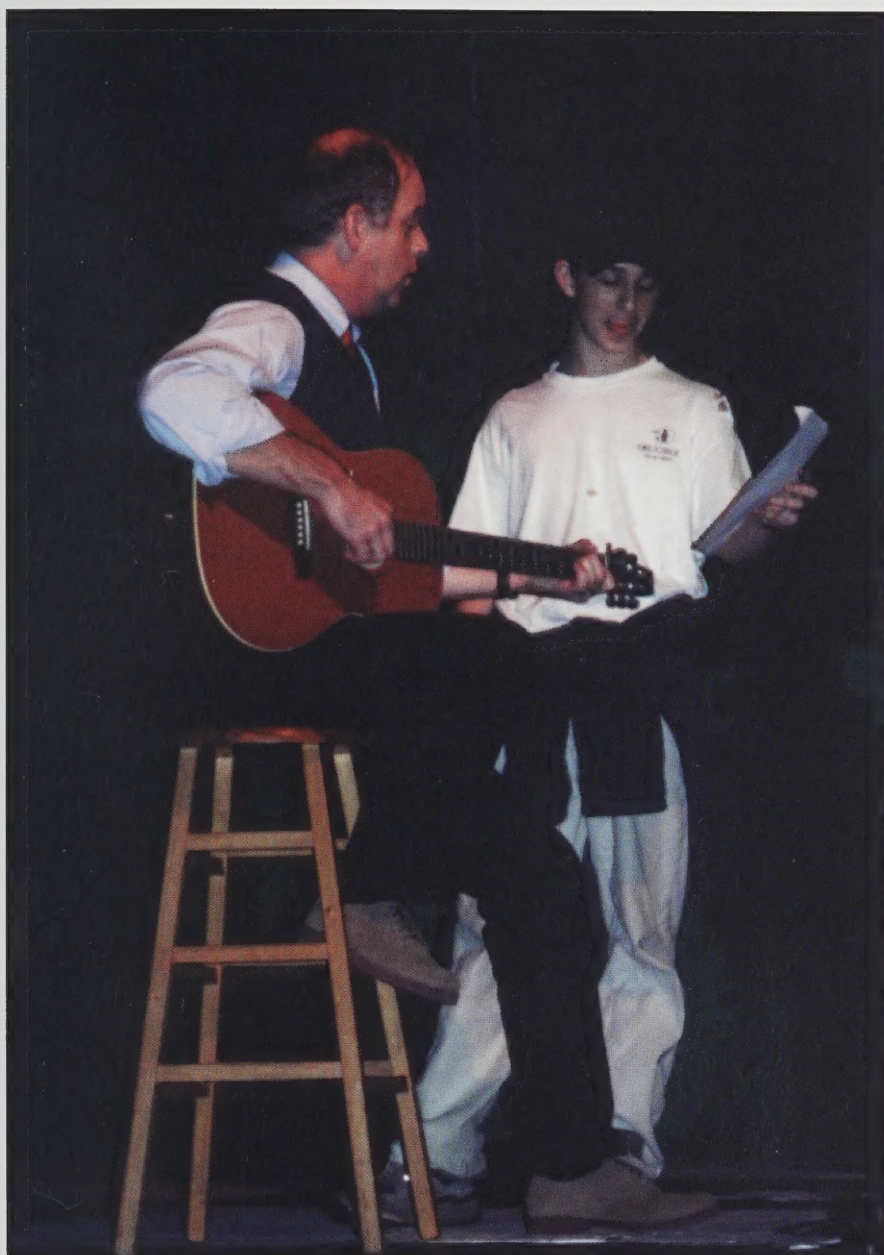

One of the biggest changes in Lincoln-Sudbury's goal of reaching new heights was the arrival of superintendent/principal Dr. John Ritchie. A few months into the school year, it was decided that someone had to go find out what he was all about. The DYAD staff thought up some questions to ask him. This is the portrait of Dr. Ritchie that emerged from his responses.

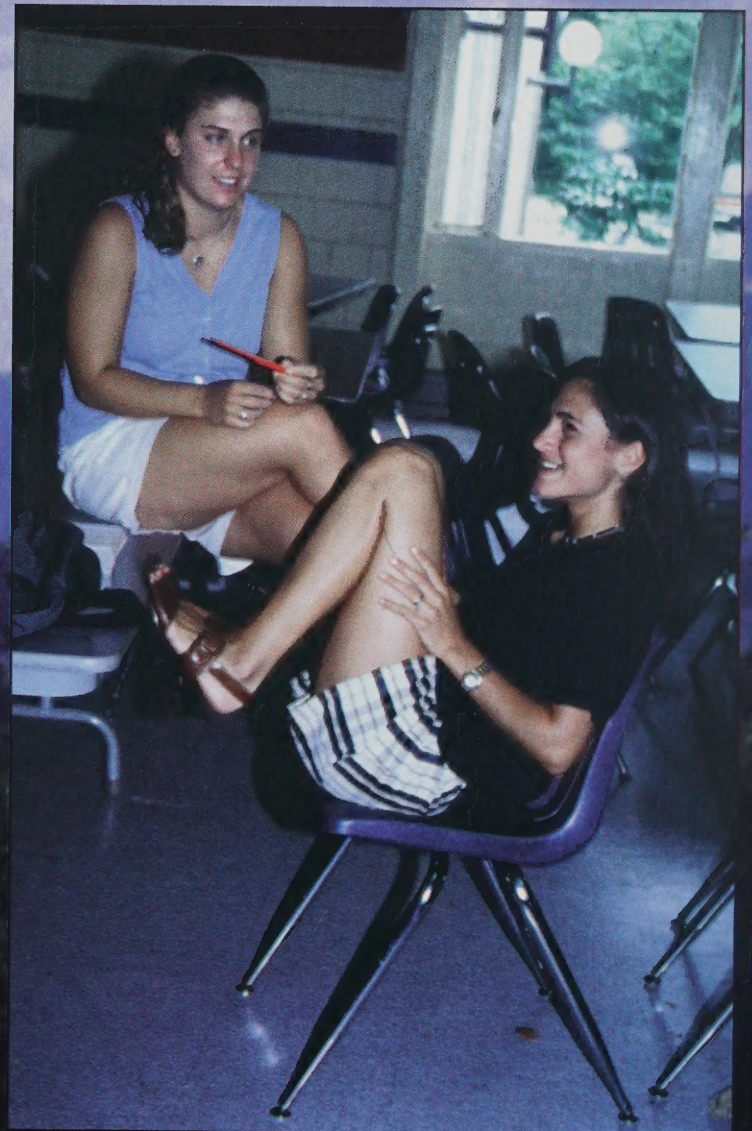

Dr. Ritchie is a fan of William Shakespeare. He has read many of the Brit's works, would love to live in London, and is extremely disappointed that he wasn't able to attend a production in the original Globe Theatre.

Has he always been a Shakespeare buff? We don't know. Probably not. In fact, in middle school, it sounds like he goofed off a lot (unfortunately, he wouldn't elaborate). However, in high school he must have shaped up just a little for he applied early to Dartmouth College and got in. More spectacular is the fact that, during his interview at Williams, Dr. Ritchie was told that, if he wanted to go, he would be accepted.

Okay, okay, so our friendly superintendent is above average academically. Athletics is a different story. While Dr. Ritchie enjoys most outdoors sports, we would more likely see him sailing on the Charles or walking through the woods than running on the track or playing lacrosse.

In closing, when asked about his job as superintendent and principal, he thinks it is great. He said, "I'm my own boss. If I'm doing a bad job as principal one day, I'll be superintendent. It's wonderful."

Student Life

Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School is not just a building with classrooms, teachers and loads of work. Lincoln-Sudbury is an environment where students and faculty alike work hard but play hard as well. At the end of the last class of the day, students rarely hop on the bus or into their cars to go home. Instead, students involved in athletics get ready for practice where, more often than not, a faculty member is the team coach. Students not involved in sports often remain in school for club meetings, play rehearsals, teacher conferences, and other activities.

This year, the DYAD staff thought it would be interesting to follow a student through a day at L-S. Since L-S has many different types of students, the staff merged the experiences of several actual students to create a "typical" student. This "typical" student is a senior who is involved in many aspects of L-S life including interaction with underclassmen and faculty and involvement in sports, school activities, and of course, classes! After all, this is Student Life.

It is Tuesday. Our Senior has driven onto school property at 7:58. The Senior is nice enough to drive a sister and two underclassmen to school as well. The sister yells at our Senior because she is going to be late for her keyboarding class. "Oh don't worry so much," grumbles our Senior. "It's just typing. You have three more years to fulfill this requirement." The Senior parks and strolls into the school to Western Civ.

Our Senior enjoys English. Mr. and Mrs. Plott are their usual enthusiastic and entertaining selves today. The class is discussing the Oedipus cycle. Towards the end of the class Mr. Plott mentions something about a paper on Oedipus. Our Senior isn't really paying attention. Luckily, our Senior has many friends in that class and can get the assignment from them...that is, if they were paying attention.

Fourth block starts at 9:20. Our Senior has this block free and has decided to go out to brunch with some friends. But at the last minute our Senior remembers a 10:15 appointment with Mrs. Riseman to discuss colleges. "Well, I'll see you guys later," our Senior says to the friends.

The meeting with Mrs. Riseman goes well. Our Senior's list of colleges is now down to five with two of those being safetys. Now our Senior has some time to kill. Our Senior walks down to the library with the intention of studying for that Spanish test which is tomorrow, but meets two underclass friends there. They start discussing politics, specifically the upcoming presidential elections. Our Senior is a stalwart democrat and would vote for Clinton. The friends tend to lean more to the Republican side. Not that it matters since everyone of them is underage, but it's still fun to talk about.

"Do you guys wanna do anything this weekend?" our Senior asks. "Let's go see The Chamber." "No, I saw that last weekend and I didn't like it. What about That Thing You Do." "Ugh, that was terrible." Around 10:20, our Senior offers to take the group out to lunch. As the trio walks down the hall they meet two other Seniors who also have this block free. They all decide to go out for a quick bite to eat. They must be back to catch first block which happens to be AP Bio for our Senior.

Jon Sclarsic ('99)

Peter O'Donnell ('97)

Stephanie Keene ('00) and friends in the caf

Erin Moore and Paul Kearney (both '99)

Our Senior heads to the caf to grab a bite to eat since there is no longer any time to go out. Halfway there, our Senior runs into an underclassmen friend whom our Senior hasn't seen for quite some time.

"Where have you been?" our Senior asks the underclassperson.

"Studying, playing sports, more studying, you know. Things like this."

John Mattes-Ritz ('00)

The custodial staff taking a break for lunch

"Really? Are classes really that hard?" our Senior asks incredulously.

"Yeah, they are."

"Well, only three years left!"

"Thanks. You're so supportive. See ya around.."

"Hang in there. Bye," our Senior says heading into the caf.

Our Senior makes it to biology by 11:15 where Mrs. Busiek discusses enzymes. Our Senior sort of remembers this stuff from Freshman year when Ms. Plasse taught it, but it's good to get a refresher.

After bio, our friend has Western Civ history with Mr. Newton. Then there is a short block of Spanish. After Spanish, it's conference block. Our Senior is involved in the MLK Action project. Together with a friend, our Senior makes final preparations for the Jimmy Mack walk this Sunday. "Are you going to the Food Bank next week?" Jo asks our Senior. "Yup, I'll be there." Our Senior would also go to Haley's House today but there is a soccer game today and our Senior is the starting forward.

Celebrating a goal!

The soccer game is against Acton-Boxborough. It's a home game so the team is hoping for a large crowd turnout. Hopefully, L-S will win. Even though the teams are young, and AB is a tough opponent there is still a good chance L-S could win.

In the last minute of the second half, our Senior makes the winning goal. The team cheers, the crowd cheers. Victory for L-S!

It's 5:30, it's getting dark, and our elated Senior heads home. After dinner, our Senior attempts to write that paper for history, and to do all those math problems. Around 9:30, homework is done. Our Senior calls some friends, catches a bit of a Seinfeld repeat, then goes to read Candide before going to bed, ready (or maybe not) to face another day of life at L-S.

where would you go and why?

Patagonia. I like the name and the mountains rock!

—Mike Flanagan

Home, because I spend too much time here.

—Dan Damelin

I would go to Austrailia and be a veterinarian, archeologist and pilot.

—Richard Landrigan

I think I would go to Italy to see the Mob.

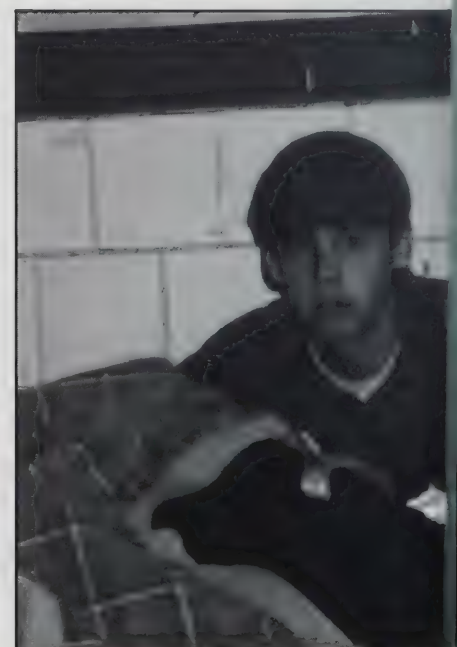

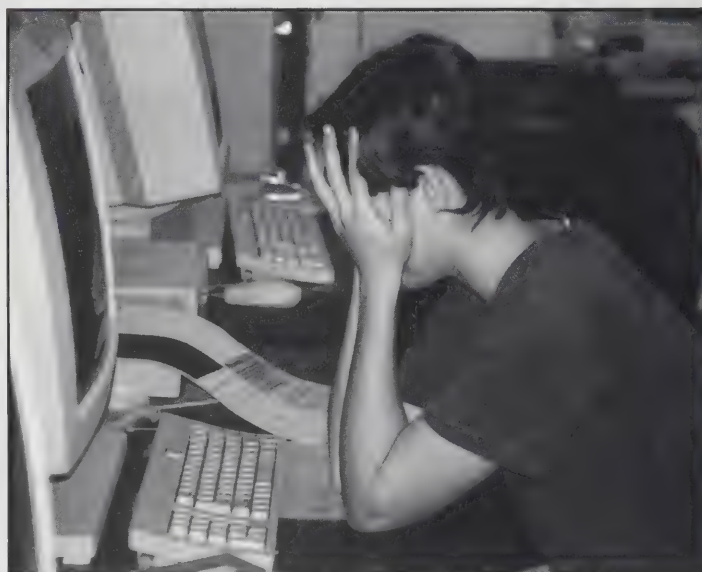

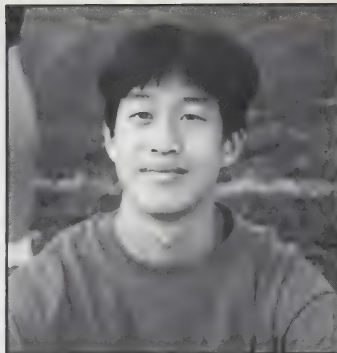

—Kate Wallin

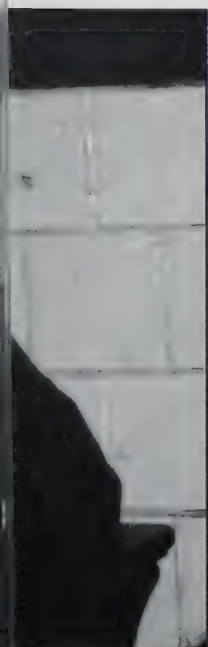

Alaska during the summer because it would be neat to have it be light out all day.

—Catherine Cogley

Isle of Capri. It's gorgeous and warm and filled with vivacious people.

—Nancy Errico

What is the top stress factor in your life today?

Western Civ, history.
—Anonymous

Getting a girlfriend.
—Adam Fliss

Getting everything finished for all my classes and still having fun.
—Julia Menge

College Admissions.
—Bill Gienapp

Grade expectations from my parents.
—Anonymous

Reputation.
—Anonymous

Biology.

—Joe Onorato

What would be the ideal student?

Respectful and interested and friendly.

—Barry Copp

Smart, helps others,
funny.

—Catherine Cogley

Bill Gienapp.

—Bill Gienapp

All A's. Good to chill with. Good in sports.

—Nick Priest.

Me.

—Anonymous

Someone who takes everything in stride, is inquisitive and likes to learn simply for the sake of learning.

—Kristin Loos

Someone who always shows up for class, gets 95 or above on all homework, tests and quizzes.

—Angela Lewis

Enthusiastic, organized and creative.

—Suzanne Gainer

What would be the ideal teacher?

One who can relate to a wide variety of students, respects individual differences, is knowledgeable, enjoys teaching, and has fun with it.

—Nancy O'Neil

Mr. Bloom.

—Peter Edling

Mr. Puchalsky teaching science.

—Tim Ragonis

Mr. Banta.

—Jarrod Shoemaker

Nice. Gives you some responsibility. Not too strict or gullible.

—Anonymous

The ideal teacher would be one who is cool and doesn't give much work.

—Christina Day

One who understands that I have other subjects too and a life outside of school.

—Anonymous

Inspires students to their full potential.

—Dan Damelin

What are some unusual outdoor hobbies you have?

Scuba Diving.
—Chris Tomassian

I love cross-country skiing. But that's not all that odd... I like making snowmen too.
—Julia Menge

Spelunking, or caving as it's more commonly known. I grew up in a very rural area with many natural, unexplored caves. I have three big brothers who would take me with them on their treks
when I was as young as ten years old.
—Suzanne Gainer

Road biking.
—Mike Flanagan

Playing tag in the dark.
—Anonymous

An outdoor hobby of mine is when it's raining out to go puddle
jumping because it's fun.
—Anonymous

What are the perfect weather conditions for you?

Freezing cold. Tons of wind. Big blizzard. Glaciers moving in from the north. Snow everywhere. Approximately forty feet of it. I'm serious.

—Richard Landrigan

Seventy-five degrees at night so I can lie under the stars.

—Linsay Drake

Snowing, then I can go skiing. But not too cold. 28 degrees or a little colder sets up the perfect Kick wax.

—Ann Conover

Sixty degrees and sunny, because it's the best for whatever you want to do.

—Mike Flanagan

Spring. 70 degrees and sunny. No wind.

—Tim Ragones

Perfect weather conditions are hot and dry because I hate being cold and sticky.

—Julia Menge

What do you keep in your locker or car?

Nothing. I've never used my locker before.

—Kate Wallin

My locker has three jackets that I always forget to take home. They're all green.

—Anonymous

In my locker I keep a picture of Elvis Costello, and Nancy Sinatra (not together; that would be catastrophic), a book about 70's music trivia, and a book about Western Europe that I got free from the library.

—Maggie Lee

In my car? A spontaneous picnic basket.

—Suzanne Gainer

A plastic bag.

—Ann Conover

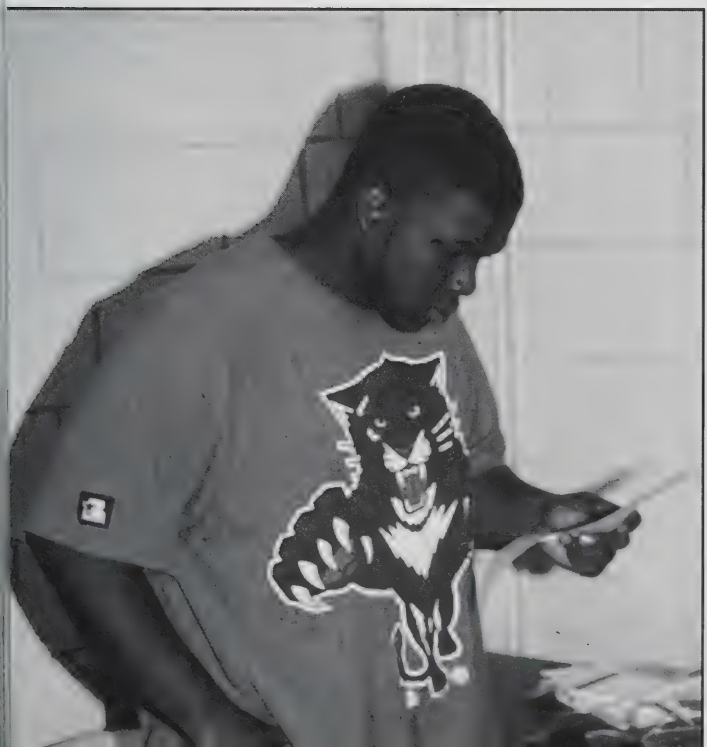

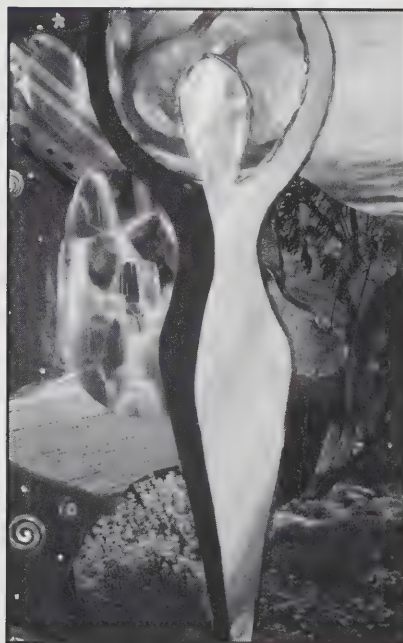

In my car: all of my books.

—Nick Priest

In my locker: Ocean Spray Ruby Red Cans (so don't open it).

—Brian McCann

What do you think are the fashion trends today?

It depends who you are.
—Brian Bohne

It's retro '70's. I like some of the clothes but some are too like "hello, I'm here!"
—Angela Lewis

I hate trendy stuff like that. You should be able to wear what you think is comfortable and explains who you are.
—Anonymous

Pierced body parts. Folks will live to regret them when they're older.
—Barry Copp

It's all retro, and I like it all. I'm glad grunge is out.
—Anonymous

Corduroys and fleeces.
—Tim Ragon

Anything retro, whatever you want is cool by me as long as it's not blatantly to get attention.
—Morgan Kaplan

What does or did turning 18 mean for you?

Senior, licence, more freedom.

—Cam Roller

Not much. I can vote.

—Lindsay Drake

Going skydiving without parental permission.

—Mike Flanagan

I finally quit smoking.

—Phill Cryan

I'll be an "adult" trapped in a high school.

—Nellie Sacknoff

I'm moving out!

—Ann Conover

O please!! I can't remember back that far!!!

—Nancy O'Neil

I can buy scratch tickets.
That's it. And I can get a library card without my mom.

—Maggie Lee

It will mean that I'm not seventeen anymore.

—Anonymous

Do you avoid taking the bus to school?

Yes! I get a ride from my mom, my friends, my friends' moms, my teachers...

—Anonymous

Yes, by getting a ride with any other upper classmen who's available.

—Nellie Sacknoff

No, the bus is cheaper.

—Adam Fliss

Yes. I drive or beg rides from friends.

—Catherine Cogley

Yes! I would rather eat grass.

—Morgan Kaplan

I avoid taking the bus to school by having my aunt drive me at 7:45 so I don't get here too early.

—Christina Day

I try to but my mother insists I take the bus in the morning.

—Anonymous

Your best experience in high school...

Being surprised on my 16th birthday with a pizza with candles in it.

—Suzanne Gainer

Playing Lysander in A Midsummer Night's Dream,... but wait, what if Fausa is better?

—Morgan Kaplan

My best high school experience was when one of my teachers told Ari to shut up.

—Catherine Cogley

Taking Western Civ. classes because they were so eye-opening.

—Tim Ragonese

I'm just a freshman. I need more time to have good experiences.

—Anonymous

Winning the state championship in basketball.

—Nancy O'Neil

Senior

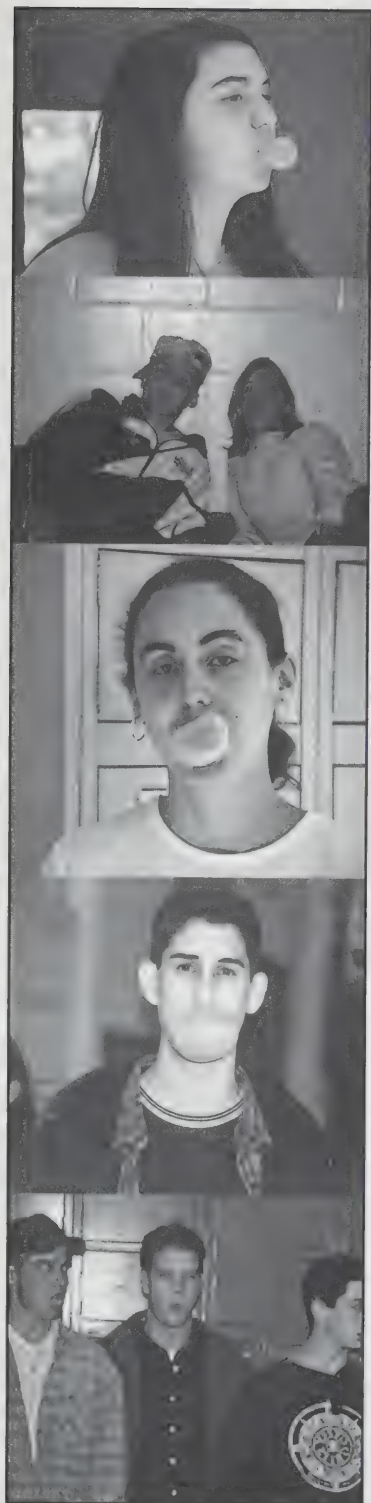

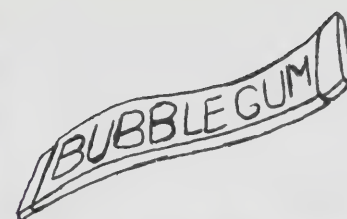

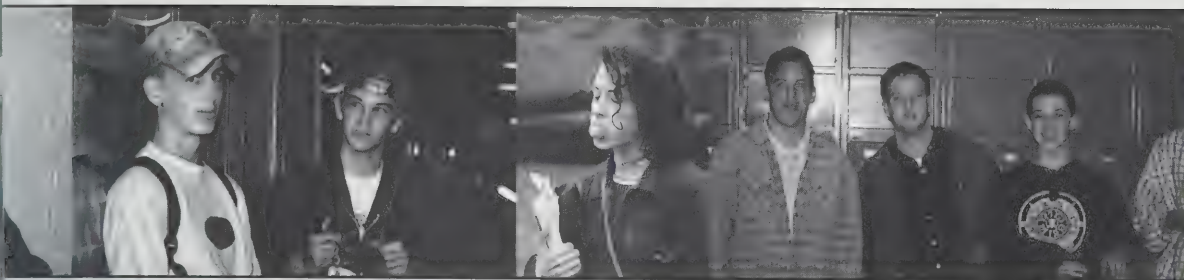

We Made It!

It's hard to believe there was a time when L-S seemed like a vast expanse of strangely colored halls with bathrooms in out-of-the-way places; when the cafe served slushies at odd hours; and our classes were only fifty minutes long. Remember when the seniors were huge, Myers Field was the place to be every Friday night to watch the football game and see the Gators, and when no one cared if you ate in the halls? It's hard to believe that we were freshmen four years ago.

When we were freshmen, senior year was idealized: it was a far-off place and time with the perfect schedule, plenty of frees, and all the other privileges due to upperclassmen. Now we've been there, done that, have the T-shirt, and can say that it wasn't exactly paradise. Senior year tends to divide the class even further, putting people into two distinct groups: those with a tough schedule and those with practically no schedule at all. Those in the latter group were able to party away, while those in the former wound up spending more time in the library than they had since freshman year. But almost everyone had to deal with the issues that, as underclassmen, we never really understood. We've filled in enough ovals with number 2 pencils to make ourselves cross-eyed, become insta-friends with our counselor, confronted scary admissions officers, and become masters of procrastination. We've done all this while trying to maintain our sanity, and our social lives.

Though at the time we didn't notice it, we grew up to become those seniors who we were once in awe of. Now we know what all the fuss was about, and in the end it proved to be almost as good as we thought it would be.

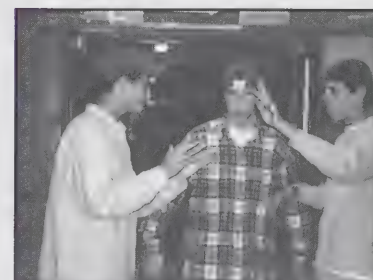

You know you're a second semester senior when:

1. The threat of an "F" doesn't matter (or scare you) anymore.
2. "No, I can't think" becomes your motto.
3. You do less homework than Cristina Luis.
4. Your biggest worry is what toppings you should put on your pizza.
5. You're in the Guinness Book of World records for the amount of homework excuses you've invented.
6. You pay more attention to passing notes than taking notes.
7. You've mastered the art of sleeping while appearing to be awake and alert.
8. You've single-handedly supported Royal Discount Books with your vast cliff-note collection.
9. More than half of your classes are electives.
10. You spend more energy cutting classes than arriving on time.

 Bugs Bunny and Chicago Bulls basketball star Michael Jordan share top billing in Space Jam, a partially animated feature film that opens in late November.

20th Century Fox from Shooting Star

 In September, Leonardo DiCaprio and Claire Danes star as the classic star-crossed lovers in the film Romeo and Juliet.

Paramount from Shooting Star

 Tom Cruise stars in Mission: Impossible, based on the 1960s and '70s television series of the same name. Despite critical put-downs, the movie is a huge box-office hit.

NBC from Shooting Star

 John Lithgow (front right) earns both an Emmy and a Golden Globe Award for Best Actor in a Comedy Series in NBC's "3rd Rock From the Sun," a sit-com about a family of aliens living in contemporary America.

 Actors Brad Pitt (left) and Jason Patric star in Sleepers, a film about four men and their extraordinary scheme to revenge the abuse they experienced as boys. The controversial movie also stars Dustin Hoffman, Robert De Niro and Kevin Bacon.

CBS from Shooting Star

 America's favorite sit-com father, Bill Cosby, enjoys the success of his new CBS show, "Cosby." In January 1997, however, tragedy strikes as Cosby's son Ennis is killed in Los Angeles in an apparent random robbery.

Warner Bros. from Kobal

 Michael J. Fox returns to television in September as a deputy mayor in ABC's "Spin City," a sit-com about the inner workings of New York's City Hall.

Dream Works SKG from Shooting Star

 Stars Bill Paxton and Helen Hunt flee a tornado of awesome proportions in Twister, another summer blockbuster, which tells the story of storm chasers highly devoted to studying the inner workings of tornadoes.

Folk and blues artist Tracy Chapman returns to the scene in 1996 with the single "Give Me One Reason." Chapman receives five Grammy nominations in January 1997.

The artist formerly known as Prince releases Emancipation, a three-hour, three CD album, in honor of his release from his Warner Bros. recording contract.

Guitarist Slash of Guns N' Roses forms his own band. His new group, Slash's Blues Ball, is a six-man blues band grounded in the blues-based hard rock of the 1970s.

Rocker Sheryl Crow joins the ranks of musicians who have had their albums banned from Wal-Mart. The retail giant objects to a lyric alleging that kids kill each other with guns they obtained from the store.

The Beatles' Anthology 3, the third and final album from the reunited remaining members of the band, is released in November. Following the example of their two previous anthologies, Anthology 3 sells in record numbers.

Gary Malerba, LGI

Kiss bass guitarist Gene Simmons strikes a familiar pose as the band kicks off a reunion tour with a June 28 concert in Detroit. The tour marks the first time the original members of the band perform together since 1979.

Tim Mosier/Redux Ltd

Canadian pop artist Celine Dion tops the charts in 1996 with the album Falling Into You, which sells more than 16 million copies worldwide.

Kipa, LGI

Alternative-rock band Nirvana releases a new album, From the Muddy Banks of the Wishkah, in December. The album contains 17 live tracks recorded between 1989 and the 1994 suicide of singer Kurt Cobain (right).

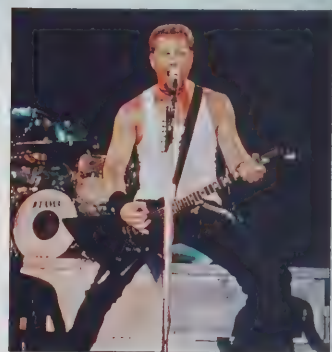

Jane Huntington, LGI

Bush, a British rock group with an American "grunge" sound, tours the U.S. to promote their album Sixteen Stone. They release another chart-topping album, Razorblade Suitcase, in the winter.

Steve Jennings, LGI

Heavy metal band Metallica is the headlining act for the summer concert Lollapalooza, traditionally an alternative-rock show. Metallica remains high-profile, winning an MTV award for the year's Best Hard Rock Video in September.

After 10 years of separation, members of the band Van Halen are reunited with their former lead singer, David Lee Roth (right), at the MTV Video Music Awards in September. Roth later claims he thought he was rejoining the band, who chose a different lead singer.

Alanis Morissette's Jagged Little Pill reigns the charts, becoming the all-time top-selling album by a female artist. Morissette also dominates the 1996 Grammys by winning four awards, including Best Album.

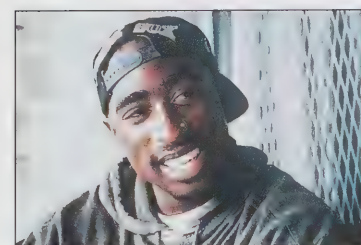

Neal Preston, Retna

Death Row Records co-founder Dr. Dre, often dubbed the "godfather of 'gangsta' rap," begins distancing himself from hard-core rap. "Been There, Done That," his break-away anthem, premieres on MTV in September.

Artie Starr, LGI

Fourteen-year-old singing sensation LeAnn Rimes is nominated for the Country Music Association's Horizon Award after the breakthrough success of her single "Blue." The popular new star is often compared to country music legend Patsy Cline.

AP, Wide World

The music world is stunned in September by the death of rapper Tupac Shakur, killed in a drive-by shooting in Las Vegas. Speculations as to the killer's motive abound, but the year ends with no answers and no arrests.

James L. Lance, LGI

R.E.M.'s 12th album, New Adventures in Hi-Fi, the group's first recording since 1994's Monster, is released by Warner Bros. in September.

The Wolfhounds, with Jakob Dylan, son of legendary folk artist Bob Dylan, release Bringing Down the Horse, which features hit singles "One Headlight" and "8th Avenue Heartache."

Vive la Dominica!

by Annie Hawkins

Last summer I went with a group called World Horizons to Dominica, one of the Caribbean's most unique islands. The primary purpose of the month-long adventure was to do community service. Our mornings consisted of organizing and supervising a summer camp for local children, ages five to fourteen. In the afternoons, our group went to the capital city, Roseau, to do individual internships. My job alternated between making ceramics at a local gift shop and maintaining hiking trails with the government's forestry department.

Apart from Dominica's friendly and fascinating people, the island is home to many natural wonders. One of the most amazing is the Boiling Lake, a freshwater lake on a volcanic fault which actually boils. From the 4,500 ft. peaks of Morne Trois Pitons to the dense rainforest with eighteen inch long grasshoppers, Dominica is beautiful and diverse.

Even though it's not the usual Caribbean tourist trap (for lack of rolling white beaches), Dominican nightlife is very exciting. There are reggae dance clubs in nearly every town, which provided us with a chance to simply hang out with the Dominican people. Between working, hiking, and "chilling" with the locals, my summer in Dominica was the experience of a lifetime. Vive la Dominica!

Honduras '96

by Geoff Fallon

There we were, seventeen high school kids and assorted adults, gathered at a gate in Logan Airport, not knowing what to expect at our final destination. What we got in Honduras was a lot of hard work, fun, and many memories. We traveled to Honduras with the youth group of Our Lady of Fatima Church in Sudbury. While in Honduras we stayed in a religious high school compound. Some of us had older brothers and sisters who had previously gone on the trip and told us about it, but for the most part we were clueless.

We arrived in the capital to be faced by beggars and hecklers who tried desperately to get our money. Everything that we saw there was new to all of us. We had never been faced with such poverty and disease. Seeing all of this inspired us to work hard and help the Honduran people as much as we could while we were there. All of the kids took turns helping to build houses and working in the medical clinic that we had established. During the days that we weren't working, we traveled, going to cities, beaches, and to see the Mayan ruins. Through all that we saw and did, the most important lesson that we learned was about helping other people and how much of a difference each one of us can make.

This Guy Climbed Mount Washington

by Sam Hawes

The Outdoor Club promotes enjoyment of the outdoors through such activities as hiking, canoeing, and skiing. This allows us to experience the tranquility and beauty of the New England forests and summits. It is the woods, the views, and the winding white-blazed trails that draw us back. The rain is always present too, but we just try to ignore it. It does get frustrating, though, getting rained on all the time. Storms will cancel all their major plans just to follow us to the White Mountains and rain on us. But we don't mind. We come back anyway. And you should try to experience some of this beauty, too. Get on Route 16 and experience the majesty of the Presidential Range. Or drive through Franconia Notch and see the Old Man in the Mountain, an unusual projection on the side of a mountain that, when viewed from a certain angle, resembles the profile of an elderly man. Stay out of the touristy sections of the Whites, and pursue the trails off the beaten path. Climb through Kinsman, the Carters, or Evans Notch. Cross-country ski at one of the ski-touring centers, or better yet, break your own trail. Travel north to the rugged Mahoosucs, which many veteran thru-hikers call the hardest section of the Appalachian Trail. Ice climb at Cathedral Ledge. Hurtle down Tuckerman on telemark skis and get some serious air. And if you want some real fun, actually hike Mount Washington and smirk at all the people who drive up who say, "You actually walked up?" Tell them that yes, you did, and it took many hard days and you had to sleep with your sleeping bag lashed to the side of a cliff and thankfully the bears only took half of your food even though they later returned and ate all the other people you were hiking with, and the tourists will actually believe you. So go for it. Join the Outdoors Club. Participate.

Reflections on a Trip to Africa

by Sally Coleman

All my life I have been fascinated with Africa's majesty of tribes and extraordinary wildlife. So when I had the chance, I went on a safari in Tanzania with ten other people, including Betty Busiek. It was scary to go without my folks to a country half way around the world, but it was Africa, my dream, so I jumped at the chance.

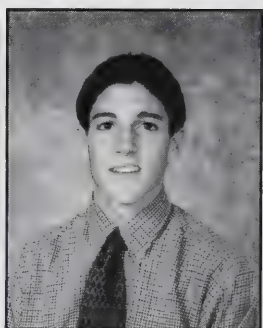

After being told that my expectations of rare sightings should be lowered because it was difficult to promise anything, I was in complete awe when fantasy became reality. It was more incredible than I had ever dreamed! Not only did I get to go incredibly close to the beautiful animals, but I also met some equally exquisite people. Having the highest respect for the Masai people, I watched as they traded, herded goats, and created lovely beaded jewelry. They were the wisest, most curious people I had ever met. They were also the boldest.

I knew that visiting Tanzania was going to be an event that I would never forget. Yet I never figured that I would learn such a vast amount in two weeks. Even when I look back, I am breathless. I can say that there was no aspect that I didn't love, and I plan to be back there in the wild as soon as I can.

My Summer as a Student Ambassador

by Melody Jiang

by Melody Jiang

Before this year, I considered myself an experienced traveler: I've been overseas many times in my life already (with my family, of course). But after I had spent 5 weeks of my summer in Hong Kong and Taiwan as a Student Ambassador, I realized that I still have much to learn about the world.

After twenty-four hours of flights and connections, I landed in Hong Kong, and it didn't take long for me to figure out that this was going to be a very hot and sticky 5 weeks. After I'd gotten over jet lag, I spent a week exploring the surprisingly multicultural city—a blend of old, crowded neighborhoods and modern skyscrapers, all surrounded by lush green hills.

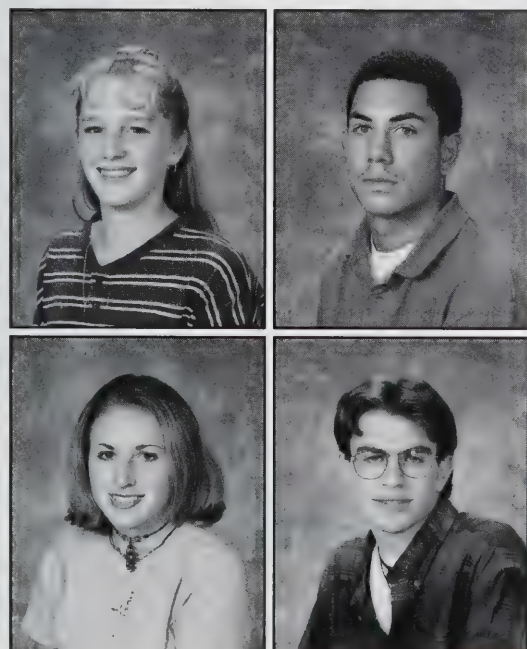

My next stop was the island of Taiwan. I would spend the rest of my trip here— first in the capital, Taipei, then in Taichung, a city halfway down the coast, and finally in Tainan, a southern city. I was amazed at how modern and how different Taiwan was from everything I'd ever known. In Taipei, I rode an aerial rapid transit system— like the "T" in midair. In Taichung, I saw rice plants growing in watery paddyfields. In Tainan, I watched people offering food and burning incense to the ghosts of the ancestors in lavishly decorated red and gold temples, as is the tradition during Ghost Month. Nature was just as surprising— during the time I was there, I went through 2 typhoons and an earthquake.

Of course, I spent quite a bit of time exploring historic sites and museums, attending concerts and writers' conferences, etc., but I believe the experiences I'll remember the most took place at home with my host families, especially the conversations we had when we were jogging or eating homemade meals or even Domino's Pizza. As a matter of fact, "American food" in Taiwan is made Chinese style, just as Chinese food here is made American style. My host families also helped me improve my Chinese, since they spoke little English.

I was also fortunate to have the opportunity to visit Wen-Hwa high school in Taichung, and to talk to a group of students there, all in uniform, about Wen-Hwa High and L-S. I was amazed at the hours they put in at school— a typical day ran from 7 to 5, and "summer vacations" were actually filled with review classes for the National College Entrance Exams. These exams literally determine which college you go to: grades and extracurricular activities don't count for admission. Obviously, these students worked very hard. However, among all this learning, I found that the kids thought themselves to be at a disadvantage in the real world, because everything they ever learned was from books. They were fascinated by all my activities— sports, music, clubs, youth group, etc. So as you can see, I found that every place is different, but no place is "better" than another!

What life? Many of us find ourselves sucked into the sophomore schedule vortex as we gasp for breath or maybe a chance to go out with a friend. So many of us find that we have no free time while juggling sports, hard classes, and clubs. Can we say nervous breakdown? Even those smart enough not to take AP History or play a sport throughout the year, still find that play rehearsals and other extracurricular activities call for so much time and attention.

On a lighter note, isn't it great to know that we aren't freshmen, or freshwomen, anymore? We are shown some respect (if just a little) by the upperclassmen and the frosh actually look up to us. By now we have found our niche in the school, and have developed our own circle of friends. Whether we're in the computer lab, part of the Blue Hall crowd or a resident of North House, we all have our place to belong.

The social scene is not consumed by school, it is school. From parties to plays, clubs to cookouts, L-S has provided us with so many activities and fun stuff to do that another two years does not seem all that unbearable.

¿FROSH?

Class of 2000

Go 2000! Well, we made it to high school! Freshman year is a very special year. I have heard many, many upper classmen say that their favorite year at this high school would have to be the first one. Lincoln-Sudbury is so different from either Curtis or Brooks. There are so many more privileges and opportunities available to us. No more passes to use the bathroom, nor mandatory lunches in the cafeteria. Educational trips to places such as Belize, London and Quebec are offered to all of us. However, with the opportunities, comes more responsibility. Some of us have had to learn how to budget our time effectively so we can fit in sports, clubs, and at least a little free time while still maintaining decent grades. As freshmen we are starting a new chapter in our lives, taking on more responsibilities. We are starting our journey through Lincoln-Sudbury, getting ready to become adults.

In This Corner...

We asked the South House crowd some tough questions. Here are their answers.

Who would win a fight between Mr. T. and Mr. Clean?

Mr. Clean: 60%

Mr. T.: 40%

How about Lassie vs. Mr. Ed?

Lassie: 30%

Mr. Ed: 70%

Tag Team anyone? What's your wager on Colonel Sanders and Little Bunny Fufu vs. the Pillsbury Doughboy and Stay Puff's Marshmallow Man?

Colonel Sanders and FUFU: 90%

Doughboy and Marshmallow Man: 10%

Who wants to fight, right now!!!!???

YEAH, let's go: 70%

No, can't we all just get along?: 20%

No comment: 10%

To The Greatest Crew Around!

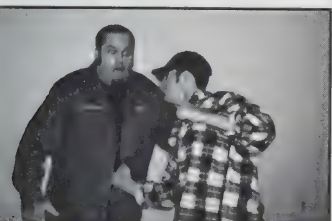

The Custodial/Maintenance Staff

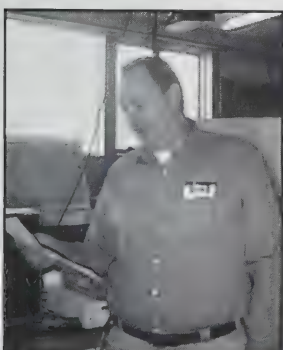

Rick Young, hard at work.

Bruce grabbing T.J., who is causing trouble.

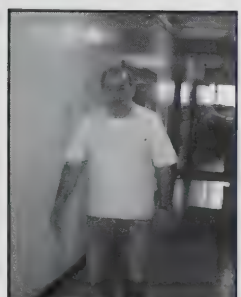

But T.J. won't go that easy!

Jim Keith at ease

Billy Davison enjoying a fine meal

Hey Dave, where's your smile?

To most of the students at Lincoln-Sudbury, the custodial/maintenance staff just open your locker for you or get in your way as you head to class. You may not like some of them because they might give you a ticket for parking illegally. But, hey, they are only doing their job. No matter what your feelings are for them, they are without a doubt the greatest bunch of people around. I have had the pleasure of working with them for three summers. They are hard working and help make the school run smoothly. This crew has put in hours and hours of hard work, much of which goes unnoticed. They take pride in their work, and it shows. It is not the easiest of jobs, nor is it a position that receives the thanks it deserves. But they have earned my respect and loyalty.

The men and women who work behind the scenes have watched us grow. There are students in the school they will miss. I have seen some changes in personnel in my four years here. I will not forget them, they have given me friendly advice as well as their friendship. To those of you who have left and to those presently on the "crew", I whole-heartedly hold you in the highest regard. You have taught me not to wait for that improbable 21 hand, but rather to play the cards that are dealt and do the best you can with them. I thank you for everything you have taught me. You have been there to help me through some tough times. I consider all of you to be dear friends, even a second family. I hope you will leave me a seat at the table!

-T.J.

WHO AM I?

How well do you know the faculty and staff at Lincoln-Sudbury Regional High School? Can you correctly match the description with the individual? Why not give it a shot — match these descriptions with the names on the following page.

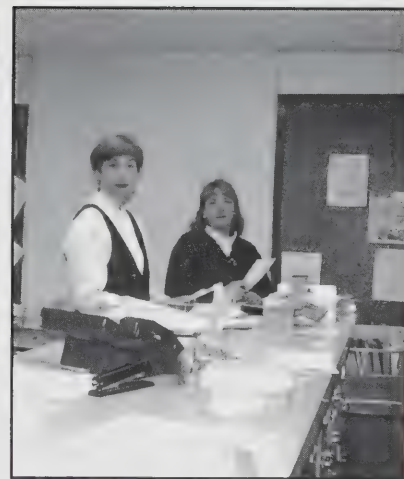

1. This faculty member plays water polo and studies Arabic at Harvard Extension School. Who is she?
2. This new faculty member was born in Cuba. Who is she?
3. Who is the faculty member that studied dance and danced with American Dance Ensemble?
4. A faculty member who majored in engineering and architecture ends up at L/S. Who can that be?
5. This former biology teacher is currently in a different field. Who is she?
6. We are surprised to find this faculty member at L-S rather than a tropical island — she loves to surf, water ski and boat. Who is she?
7. We almost lost this faculty member to an Italian engineer. She lived in Milan back in the late 1960s to early 1970s. Who is she?
8. Back in 1968 we would have found this faculty member playing baseball with the Cape Cod Baseball League. Hint: he didn't even hit his weight even though he doesn't weigh much! Who is he?
9. This faculty member had a prior life as a high school cheerleader. Who is she?
10. This faculty member did computer programming for a company that was primarily a defense contractor. Who is he?
11. The music department would love this person — she studied six different musical instruments. Who is she?
12. A prior youth Evangelist for his church, this L-S member played the part of Ben Franklin in his town's Bicentennial Parade. Who is he?
13. This new faculty member was a former high school English teacher who loves to spend her time going out to see bands. Who is she?
14. Which faculty member used to play the Harpsichord?
15. A drowning woman was very grateful to this L-S faculty member who rescued her from a frozen lake. Who is he?
16. Which faculty member used to be a lobster fisherman in California?
17. This faculty member has the honor of climbing the highest dune in the Sahara desert three times. She also has published travel articles in the Boston Globe and the Los Angeles Times. Who is she?
18. Who is the faculty member that once lived in a barn and worked in a brewery in an English National Park?
19. If this faculty member was not allergic to rats, she might not be here. She joined L-S after she found out she was unable to continue doing lab research. Who is she?
20. Who spent time in a dumbwaiter in college while pulling a prank? He, as well as three friends, were stuck in the dumbwaiter until the campus security pried the door open. Who is he?
21. At age 23 this faculty member adopted a 12-year-old son! Who is she?
22. This faculty member has the honor of having shook hands with Eleanor Roosevelt. He also has crossed the Andes twice by taxi. Who is he?
23. Who is the faculty member that finished third in the 1988 Whitewater Canoe National Championships (over 40 division)?
24. It is hard to believe a faculty member had to buy a shotgun as a job requirement in a prior job. Who is she?
25. This faculty member has the distinction of having served in the Navy Reserves. She also owned and managed a Deli in Waltham. Who is she?
26. For over three years, this faculty member lived in Ethiopia. Who is he?
27. It should be easy to figure out who the faculty member is that is on Emeritus that likes to travel and go camping.
28. In a former life, this faculty member was a bouncer. A hint is that she also taught in an all-girls' boarding school. Who is she?
29. This faculty member's original job choice was to work in deaf education. She spent four years working as a translator. Who is she?

The Chess Club is an informal gathering of chess enthusiasts, designed to sharpen the abilities of players on every level, and to practice new strategies against each other. This year we have even tried to set up relaxed, mini-tournaments against other schools.

Not a bad 1996 season. We had some great times (MATIGNON) and some real low ones (CONCORD) but we always gave it our all and grew not only as a team but also as individuals. Thanks to all who supported us throughout the season, including the fans, all the parents, Mrs. Lopez, Ms. O'Neill, Coach Boom-Boom Bannon, Coach Sansone, Coach Beau, (we missed you Coach Hunter), Coach Cileno, Coach Justason, and especially Coach Lopez. You put in a lot of time to make a successful and memorable season for all of us. We appreciate it.

"Bink" Defense y'all know the deal! Field goal team: your mother's so _____!! Marcus, what happened to Bert's face? Cam, why are you so tired? Latimer, "are you leading me on?" Healy, get on your horse! I almost had him Urban. Yippee-ki-aye! Earl: "It's too cold!" PICK!! TJ, Gimp, time to change hands. How'd you catch that? Jonas, why are you switching with Logan? Shay, are you pregnant? Knox, I want you up front where you can see yourself. Knox, are you watching this? Kimball, where's your blackshirt? Marcus, where are you on Mondays?! Where's Jovan? Roomets, nice package! What's up with the fro? Priest! Davis! Hold on to the football! Highstepper!! Logan, California Dreamin'! Pop-up position! Ando: "it's in the girige." Girige!?! It's garage Ando! Lopez: "Fat people are running! That's not a cake Jonas. Vataha, Murph, get the balls. I'd ask Smitty to get them but he'd probably drop them.

Hope everything goes well for all the seniors: Noland, McGilvray, Priest, Knox, Jackson, Vataha, Daniels, Roundy, Brown, Schuler, Urban, Cox, and Emery. Good luck to all the juniors and sophomores next year. May the Warrior tradition live on!

Clockwise (from top left): Dan Lee (97) gets off a quick pass to his teammate, Mark Pedulla (97) uses strength and determination to dribble the ball by the defenseman, Jay Freedman (97) has to bend the direct kick around the human wall to get a shot on goal.

Opposite page clockwise (from middle): Goalkeeper Adam Kneeland (97) watches the ball after he throws it out of the L-S end, David Stevens (98) congratulates Jon Bray (97) on the goal that beat A-B and brought L-S back to the tournament, Josh Drawas (97) pounds the goal kick upfield, Defensive stalwart Paul Frisoli (98) plays some man-to-man defense, Adam Freedman (99) and Billy Spencer (98) warm up before the game.

We went to the dance baby. A strong second half of the season, including a win over Division 1 powerhouse A-B, brought us to the tourney. Once we were there we did what no other L-S boys' team had done in more than 10 years: we won. Eventually, we lost a close game to EMass champion Masconomet.

Our defense was the key to our success. Goalies Adam "Harry Nips" Kneeland and Brian "Herpes" Bohne were walls. Our defense (the "IC"), lead by Dan "Sensai" Lee, could not be penetrated. Defenders Paul "Weasel" Frisoli, Billy "Squeeks-Beebe gun" Spencer, Kevin "Frisco" Tolley, J.D. "Trail, stay away from my sister!" Sergi, Josh "Somebody give me a hug" Drawas, Tommy "Hand in my head" Leuders, and Ari "Kibbutz '96-Good Enough" Holtzblatt all played well. The midfield was dominated by Jim "Run Forever" Becker, Dave "Pimp or if you prefer the term female distributor" Trail, Ryan "Austrian for beer" Foster, Calder "I shaved it myself" Akin, Adam "Bozo" Freedman, Tyler "Wayland-my back hurts" Knauer, Dave "Crazy laugh" Stevens, and Mark "No head balls" Pedulla. On offense John "Dank Nugs" Bray, Alex "Shoeless-Pizza B" Roomets, and Jay "Dumb Hair" Freedman embarrassed defenders.

Coach Anita Honkonen talks about the second half game plan with the players during halftime.

Thanks girls for a great season! Our dedication, hard work, and teamwork made the team as successful as it was. From beating Weston for the first time in years, to keeping pace with A-B and C-C, and our fist home tournament game against Marblehead- we were able to do it all because we stuck together as a team.

To Ms. Honkonen, thanks for your dedication and great coaching- we couldn't have done it without you. To our fans, especially our parents- thanks for the support and cheers.

It was an awesome season, full of memories, fun, and 100% hard work. We certainly made a statement!! Good luck in the future!

The 1996 cross-country team had quite an incredible season. We lost three of our best runners from last year, but we still had a winning season. But, of course, that's no excuse for not having the entire team show up for practice for at least one day. States would have been in our grasp if only we had all been as cocky as our freshmen. We just weren't up there for that first mile. It's also too bad one of our captains collapsed in the woods and contracted a sinus infection, and the rest of us fell ill. Too much cutting the corners, I suppose. Finally, I won't apologize for breaking the Nesky routine. We were our very own team, complete with all the accessories.

The volleyball season flew by this year. Having high expectations to live up to, we proved ourselves by making it to the second round of the state tournament. Through hard work and dedication, we were able to face adversity. Our team had incredible depth, and each person added an essential aspect to the team.

Men's Quote

The '96-'97 Men's Swimming and Diving Team began the season with low expectations because almost the entire '95-'96 team graduated. However, with our incredible depth, we beat Wayland, Newton South, Dover Sherborn, and Boston Latin. The girls chipped in in our win over C-C. As expected, we lost to Weston, A-B, and two prep teams, Milton and Phillips Andover. The women ogled at the men from these teams, but we reminded them that they beat us because they took steroids and had no social lives. Despite these losses, we were inspired by the miraculous efforts of Emily Hurstak, who swam 25 yards of breaststroke against Wayland with a separated shoulder. Dana remarked "If Emily did this in the Olympics, she would have been on the Wheaties box."

The team rarely looked forward to practice because swimming endless laps looking at the tile pool-bottom of Atkinson was never all it was cracked up to be. Dana's D crew always swam the most, whether in practice or doing the 200 and 500 free (550 if Jen H. counts for you) in the meets. For the rest of us, slacking was the only way to get by. Although we never hit the level of conditioning that Dana wanted, mainly because of sickness or Dana's infamous 45 minute speeches full of babbling and rambling, we still did very well. Our good relations with the Atkinson pool staff continued. We dealt with the mediocre pool maintenance job by the lazy Atkinson lifeguards. The chlorine always seemed a tad high, and the day after the December blizzard, the pool was a bit chilly and cloudy so unfortunately, we couldn't do flipturns because visibility was zero.

Besides the practices and the meets, pasta parties were always entertaining and a good place to share germs. Strep throat and bronchitis made their way around the team, wreaking havoc in whoever's body they infected. We abandoned the class of 96's dumb game for more important things, including confessions of MIAA violations and people's most embarrassing moments. James, who always had other commitments, showed all of us how to walk like a model (move those hips). We also used that time together to let the girls cut our hair. No one did anything radical but everyone turned into Clooney clones.

The team had a plethora of underclassmen. The veterans of the team were myself, senior Tim "Hooked on Ebonics" Ragones and juniors Adam "Is he on our team?" Kates, Barry and Michael "Reckless Drivers" Gross, and Geoff "Hairy Nipples" Fallon. If there ever was another team brawl, the upperclassmen could have easily taken the sophomores and freshmen. The underclassmen worthy of nicknames were: Ted "Leper Boy" Juliano, Nate "Manssiere" Cunha, Jarrod "Just a Girl" Shoemaker, James "NP #1" Fischer, Taylor "NP #2" Byrnes, Michael "Rocket Man" Ahern, Mark "Heather thinks you're hot!" Burkhardt, James "I'm stuck in my Speedo" Bradley, Brendan "I'm not gonna get a nickname because I don't say stupid things like Kieffer!" Lennon, D.J. "Hookin' up with Fitzzy's sister" Leahy, Channing "Mute Man" Wong, and Justin "Pimp/Dollar/Mooch/H.B./Flirt/Abby's Boyfriend/Seductive Pool Champion" Kieffer.

Good luck next year! Many traditions have been continued this year, including posting a girl's phone number at DCL's (Heather, not Michelle!). Hopefully, with the return of Superman Ed, you can escape the doldrums of DCL mediocrity and make some waves. Thanks Dana, Julie, and Stephanie for all your guidance and support.

Women's Quote

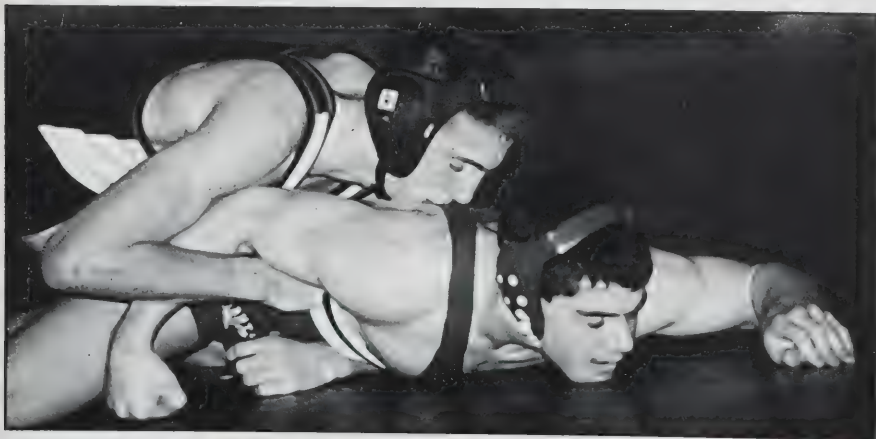

What stands out most about this season was our team bonding. From our random talks at pasta parties (Ann "Rugburn" Conover) to the back-of-the-bus gossip sessions, we were closer than ever and this is what made the season so fun. Some highlights: We beat Wayland! (heh) Abby "Jam'n" Crowley, Lindsay made sectionals (did you guys know that?), Alesha is an All-Star, Pete and Ed, DCL champions yet again, Kate's multiple injuries, the "fund," Hurstak on a Wheaties box, random women in the locker room telling us about their sex lives...ew, shmooey talks about our boyfriends, Heather "I'm only a frosh but I beat you anyways!" Mac, Michelle's Weston boys, Zito's violated at every practice, sexy divers and Leominster timers, Abby cries for Jost's DCL win (had to put that in). Good luck next year, ladies! We'll miss you! Thanks for everything Dana, Julie, and Stephanie!

We turned it around this year and went from a record of 4-12 to 12-4-1. The team was pretty young, but everyone stepped it up and came through. We came out on top in a lot of close matches. The honey bear was always there to give us a little boost in our matches. Then there was ginseng and Ultimate Orange which was always present in someone's locker. The tournament tradition continued when coach got a team point taken away at the Needham Tournament. Hey Cole, how's skittles? The intimidation factor was there thanks to Murph's tattoo. Practices were always great with the gymnasts' music blaring in the background. The bus rides were kept entertaining with the explicit stories from Leonard and Evans. The season went pretty well and we had a lot of fun winning those twelve matches. The matches were exciting and coach was always left without a voice from all of his screaming. The 23 of us came together as a team and proved why we were one of the best winter teams at L-S.

This year the hockey team established themselves as legitimate contenders. The season was highlighted by one of the fastest starts, in terms of record, in my 4 years. With the experienced coaching of Dan Doyle and Bob Cusick, we attained tremendous achievements and came to realize our potential. Senior captains Kevin "Never leave your wingman" Quinn, Alex "Mental Toughness" Mummolo, and Ethan "Beaver, where are my 'roids?" Karol provided leadership and a goal-scoring punch. We reached our goal of qualifying for postseason play thanks to the outstanding goaltending of Paul "Let's go boyz" Kearney, Spanky, and Tommy P. At the beginning of the season, I thought our lack of experienced defensemen would provide inadequate defensive coverage. However, R.J. "Sniper" Irving, John "Gump/Rainman/Are you on Heroine/I like to watch, too" Gaumnitz, Trent Hall, Mike "Iceman" Grooouel, and Bob "Where are you?" Gett generated not only a tremendous level of defense, but offense as well. Newcomers John "I'm a pony" Beckwith, Keith "Sweat" McGilvray, and Andy "I'm not wearing any panties" Narcus provided even greater depth to an otherwise one line team. This year, Hugo "The Great" Brown played as if he was inspired by an angel. With heavy hitters like Dan "No more Mr. Nice Guy" Olsen, Matt "Sweep the leg" Riordan, and Mike "Headboy" Sawyer we pounded our opponents into the glass. Jeff, don't go glove side.

P.S. "Ay...Hey Trenty, keep your clothes on!" and give my regards to Jennifer Kroto.

The 96-97 basketball season was somewhat successful, but still not the domination that we, the players, expected. Our team was neither happy together nor close. We spent most of the year bickering with each other which caused a bad vibe. At some points during the season we had moments of brilliance: the six game winning streak toward the end of the season. This burst was spearheaded by the superb play of junior Devon Burroughs and by senior captain Paul Krezanoski. Eddie Brown and Jonas Jackson (the Twin Towers) had impressive senior seasons. Tommy Biggins and Drew Bedard helped the team where they could, and of course, were the head cheerleaders. The juniors were quiet but effective. Michael (Tatelman) Tatelman was a good addition, but did not get the ball much. Billy Carlo and T.K. Mroue were definitely not used as well as they could have been. They both have bright futures. Don Ponn: Nuff said. Keep it in the right basket. Jermaine Watson and Jake Parsons rounded out a decent squad. Tone it down a little boys and you'll do OK. Pass the ball. Coach Mellilo was an OK leader and made decent decisions in regards to the team, but seemed to fade as the game got into the latter parts. Good luck to all, including Beau, Bannon and Diehl. Keep up the good work, guys. You're going to be great coaches. Good luck next year.

-Captains Paul Krezanoski and Eddie Brown

Clockwise (from top left): The team huddles before the game, Sensing the pressure of three defenders, Jonas Jackson (97) passes the ball across the paint to a teammate, Eddie Brown (97) shoots the ball over the outstretched hand of the Westford forward, Paul Krezanoski (97) looks to pass the ball or cash another three-pointer, The tenacious L-S press causes the opposition to throw the ball deep.

Opposite page (clockwise (from top right): Freshman sensation Jermaine Watson (00) dribbles the ball upcourt, Paul Krezanoski (97) schools two of his opponents and scores an easy lay-up, Devon Burroughs (97) shoots the open three, Michael Tatelman (97) receives the ball in the open court and pulls up to shoot.

Men's Quote

It was a successful year for the Lincoln-Sudbury boys' ski team. The downhill men, lead by coach Liam Powers, finished respectively, but most importantly, had fun. Todd "I Straddled the Gate" Morneau and Ben Eckstein finished top ten in the league. These two fearless gladiators were backed up by Matt Warren, Mike Flanagan, Matt Bardsley and Jay Freedman. There is promise for the future because LS will return Shawn "Missing in Action" Geurin, Dan Sieck, and Dave Whippen next year.

The Men's cross country team had a successful year as well. Ben Eckstein and Mike Flanagan ("the Spandex Brothers") consistently placed top 10 in the league along with teammate Caleb Farny. Backing them up was the Lincoln Posse consisting of Hal Hallstein, Josh Allison, Martin "Super T" Briggs as well as Charlie "Carrot Top" Morris. The seniors would like to thank Doos and Graham for a fantastic season and wish them and the team the best of luck in the future. On a personal note I would like to thank Bowen Holden for baking us tasty deserts for after races.

Some memories from the year

- Anna flirting with Liam, Bardsley and all the other soph. guys
- Todd straddling the gate (do you think that hurt?)
- Roose over the top during snow football
- Woody's uncontrollable hair
- Tiffany and CJ
- the crew who went "both ways"
- Jud skiing by three gates

-Eckstein qualifying for states (I demand a re-run)

-BBB sucks

-Sunday night practices

-the radios (wrong frequency)

-Roomet's singing and strip teases on the bus

-the pimp lodge and the hot tub

-Roomets leaving his skies at Nashoba for a month (damn baldings)

-Boland and Kyle, the Jersey posse

-Laura Strong and her infamous memories of the junior prom and last but not least need I say more then Graham!!!!

"I came to the ski team as a child, I left as a skimeister contender"

Best of wishes to everyone on the team,

Women's Quote

We had a tough season without any natural snow. We had a great team. There were a lot of first-year skiers on the team, but everyone learned quickly and become important team members. We shocked ourselves and the DCL by winning every race we went to.

Thanks to everyone for a great season. A special thanks to our coaches, Mrs. Collins, Mr. Dusenbury, Liam Powers, and Graham Taylor.

Your Captains,
Kristen, Bowen, Megan

Overall, it was a good year. Coming in we saw that we definitely had a chance at the league title. We beat Wayland for the first time in 60 something meets only to be short-changed by Weston. There were many great performances throughout the year. Kevin Tolley and Teddy Pritchard won individual DCL titles in the high jump and shotput, respectively. With many returning stars, next year's team should be even better. Good luck to future track.

It's been a really eventful year with lots of times when events happened. Some things were good and others were bad, but that trip to Florida sure was precarious. We really beat that team bad...remember? I do. Remember that time we did that thing with the stuff that made us all really happy...or sad...or was that just a dream? And remember that time when that team member said that thing to that non-team member that made us all very wanton; at the least, it sure was titillating.

Looking back on the season, I'm pretty confident we played at least 20 games (not including scrimmages) and had a record that reflected that. We got off to a slow start, but then things really turned around and now we can proudly say we are much faster.

Lastly, we will never forget that outrageous "incident" that will stick with us all...forever...and ever...and ever. I know I won't forget it. Oh man, was that "akatihsoysknaht."

With uncanny foresight,
 Damien and Bobby

This year was very different from the last couple of years. We graduated six seniors and got far too many freshmen this year. We also got a new coach. Rob was nebulous in his speech and not very malleable in his decisions, but hey, he knew a lot about nick-nacks and hummels which is useful for a tennis coach. As for the players, Chris "Harvard" Wolfe can't count to six to figure out when a set ends, but he got a 1600 on the SATs. Eli "Four Year Water Boy" Broverman was so good at getting the water the last three years, we're letting him get it again. Kiran "Weather Boy" Setty was more than just a player on the team, he was also the team mascot. Jeff "I think Rob's ignoring me" Stern had a lot to say as team captain this year. Dave "Flash" Gordon played very well once he finally got to play. Zach "Skinny Boy" Jarvis was dazed and confused but always managed to get shotgun. Jimmy "Jimokus" Shaugnessy must not have liked the new uniforms because his kept falling off during the matches. Adam Siegel is currently working on his smiles. We're trying to get him to use one during a match this season. Teddy "I'm afraid to play Newton South so I'm fleeing the main land" Silverman played well when he showed up. And Justin "I want my pizza" Kieffer never got his pizza. Anyhow, it's been a fun season.

Everyone has put in a sincere effort, to the best of their abilities, and has contributed significantly to the team...especially those of you who were committed. We appreciate all of your enthusiasm and willingness to work with a new coaching staff and a new team. Thank you June and Meaghan for helping us get motivated, even when we tried to hide in the fitness center. Great things are expected from this year's sailing team, which is looking forward to a competitive season. Although we had a little delay in getting started because of the April 1 snow storm, our first few trips out were eventful, to say the least. The first two weeks were quickly filled with a chance meeting with a Harvard crew boat, one capsize, and a vicious tennis ball war. The team is working together excellently, with a lot of time for laughing and bonding on the bus. The new members are learning quickly under the experienced watch of the veteran sailors. The team is guided by our two fearless co-captains, Steve "Captain" Kirk and J.D. "Boom" Sergi, as well as seven other seniors: Caitlin "Capsizing" Cusack, Laura "High Side" High, Linn "The Crusher" Preissler, Amy "Jumping Bean" Seligman, Laura "Water-Proof Plumb" Strong, Cat "Crack" Landrigan, and Nathan "Silent" Smith. Thanks for a great season, team! Stay dry and keep close hauled!

I knew you'd be a special person
As you were already dancing to your music
That only you could hear*

"We're so lucky to have her";
Is what others said about you during the years
As you danced to your own music
No one else had learned to hear*

*"Trace the tree, cut the ornament";
"Pin your megaphone to the left";
That's what others tried to tell you
As you danced to your own music
They could now begin to hear*

*"There's something about Sandee...";
"That just makes her Sandee";
Is what your friends said about you
As you danced to the music
Only some of them could hear*

*Once people get to know you
And see your face, your smile,
It is only then they understand
The music that you dance to
As you set them each alive*

*Keep dancing to your own music, Sandee
It's what makes you who and what you are
We will always listen for your music
And look for the dancing in your eyes*

Once a Child

*It troubled me as once I was,
For I was once a child,
Deciding how an atom fell
And yet the heavens held.*

*The heavens weighed the most by far,
Yet blue and solid stood
Without a bolt that I could prove;
Would giants understand?*

*Life set me larger problems,
Some I shall keep to solve
Till algebra is easier
Or simpler proved above.*

*Then too be comprehended
What sorer puzzled me,
Why heaven did not break away
And tumble blue on me.*

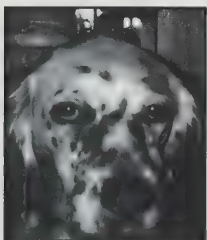

We're all proud of you.

She was a phantom of delight
When first she gleamed upon my sight;
A dancing shape, an image gay,
To haunt, to startle, and waylay.

And now I see with eye serene
The very pulse of the machine;
The reason firm, the temperate will,
Endurance, foresight, strength, and skill.

And yet a spirit still, and bright
With something of angelic light.

Be Yourself

*The world would like to change you;
There are pressures all around,
You must decide just who you are,
Then firmly hold your ground.
You have an image of yourself,
An ideal sense of you;
And to this vision you must always Struggle to be true.*

*You know what you are good at,
And you know where talents lie;
But if you're ruled by others,
Your uniqueness could pass by.
Remember, there is much to learn,
But all new things aren't good,
Wisdom lies in what you've learned
And what you have withstood.
So, be yourself and don't allow
The world to take control.
Preserving your identity is life's most precious goal.*

WHAT WILL HAPPEN

Is the world ready for this artist to make his mark?
Can he effectively translate years of domestic pain into a catchy drum beat?

Are troubled mid-western American youth ready to put down their guns and feel the vibes of his musical artistry?

Will this anarchist destroy the dreams of the next generation of soccer moms?

Is our young hero truly capable of inventing
the world's most popular low-sodium vegetable dip?

Will he buy his next pair of shoes at Penney's?

TIM GRADUATES AND THE WORLD WAITS...

Some things never change!
You were special then and even more SPECIAL now! Congratulations on a job well done.
The best is yet to come.

Love always,

At This Point in My Life

If you put your trust in me, I hope I won't let you down.
If you give me a chance I'll try...

You see I've hills but I still have mountains to climb...

If you can believe in this heart of mine..
If you can give it a try,
Then I'll reach inside and find and give you all the sweetness that I have...

At this point of my life.

Love,
Mom, Dad, Lisa and Lauren

Congratulations, Jim. We are very proud of you. Keep following those dreams.

Love,
Mom, Dad and John

"Jimmy dreams he's a child till the end
What a joy when you are your best friend
The world's such a toy
If you'll just stay a boy
You can spin it again and again

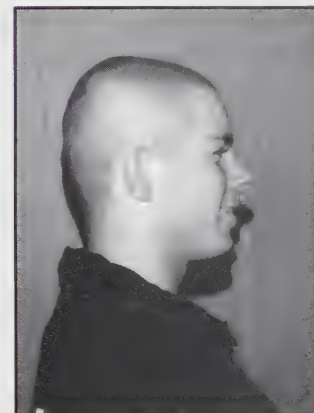

The sound of the low tide
The smell of the rain
Travelin' along
On my boat and my plane
Take it all in it's as big as it seems
Count all your blessings
Remember your dreams

Jimmy stares toward the bright Pleiades
It's so strange
What his distant eye sees
Who knows why you start
Re-discovering your heart
But you do it again and again
The world's still a toy
If you just stay a boy
And that's why Jimmy dreams"

Jen - We've had so much fun together over the years. From our late night talks, to shopping at the mall, to doing our nails, we've always been there for each other. No matter how bad I thought things were, I knew that I could always count on you for friendship, love and support. I'll never forget all the good times we've had. I know you'll have a great time at college and that you'll be successful in all that you do. Now the only problem is: Who will I share clothes with?

Love always,
Mary-Beth

Jen Harty

Jen,

You have always been our pride and joy. May all your dreams come true. We'll always be with you.

Congratulations Cat!

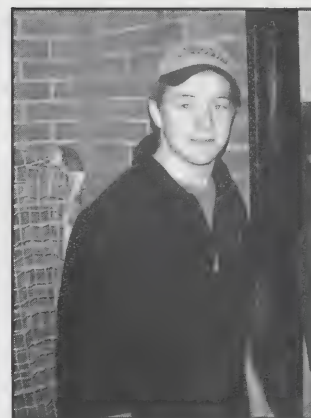

"...a shower of stars flash down all around! 'We want to play,' cried the stars, 'but there's nobody left in the sky!' 'Play with us,' said the girl. She swung up and back, up and back, and the cloud and the sun and the moon and the shower of stars swung with her. 'Oh, weeeeeeeee!' said the stars. 'Go faster!' said the cloud. 'Go higher!' said the moon. 'Hold tight,' puffed the girl. 'I'm kicking and kicking and kicking!' 'Higher!' sang the sun. 'Faster!' said the stars. 'Ooooooooooh!' sang the girl. 'We are really swinging and swinging and swinging and swinging and swinging!' And WHOOOOOOOOOOOSH! The shower of stars and the moon and the cloud flew right back up to the sky! 'What a ride!' said the sun. 'Again!' said the stars. 'Yes, again,' said the moon. 'Soon,' yawned the girl. 'Another time soon.' 'All right,' yawned her friends. 'Good night!' The sun set itself on the cloud and the moon and the stars stayed up while the girl smiled and slept and kept swinging and swinging and swinging..."

About production

The 24 pages of color totaled about one gigabyte. The black and white pages totaled about two gigabytes. Each picture was scanned, retouched, saved as either a CMYK or Grayscale TIFF file, and placed into Pagemaker for layout. The mountain file on pages 6 and 7 totaled 77 megabytes. The backgrounds were taken by Joe Onorato in Colorado, Utah, Wyoming and New Mexico, and by Linnaea Preissler in England.
